Michael Howard : Drafting Commercial Contracts: Legal English Exercise Book (Legal Study E-guides) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Drafting Commercial Contracts: Legal English Exercise Book (Legal Study E-guides):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. so I'm not worried about the wasted purchase. Given the choiceBy Marian G. DentThis was not the right book for the audience I am working with. I teach in a law school and was looking for some ideas for drafting exercises for my contract drafting students. This booklet is really not about drafting commercial contracts at all but more just a bunch of true-false etc. quiz questions on basic contract law for law students at the intermediate to upper intermediate level of English. The questions here are also the same questions that are in the back of the author's legal dictionary--so don't buy both. It was very cheap though, so I'm not worried about the wasted purchase. Given the choice, get the dictionary rather than this book.

*INTERNATIONAL legal English exercises for lawyers and law students around the world *100 QUESTIONS on drafting commercial contracts *WRITTEN by an UK qualified lawyer and English teacher *TESTS complex contract drafting legal English *TEACHES concepts and topics taught in English university law programs This legal English exercise book is designed to help international lawyers and law students understand legal English as used in the UK and around the world. Readers learn the basic principles, terms and concepts that underpin law, then discover how those ideas can be applied in practice. The series introduces technical subjects in easy to understand ways. Learn English legal vocabulary while studying the same topics taught by English legal courses. Great for those working in law whose first language is not English who want to study ILEC or TOLES.

About the Author Michael Howard is a solicitor and legal English lecturer from London. He grew up in Surrey, England and qualified as a solicitor in 2005. After many years of legal practice he decided to travel around Europe and the Middle East lecturing law and teaching English. His travels took him to Poland, Germany, Dubai, Abu Dhabi and finally back to the UK where he was invited to teach legal English to foreign lawyers and law students at Cambridge University. Michael now works in legal publishing and spends his free time writing legal English dictionaries and exercise books to help foreign lawyers improve their legal English.
